“We make a living by what we get, we make a life by what we give.” — Winston Churchill

Randi L. Rubin is a seasoned veteran attorney with 20 years of experience. As a partner at Klehr Harrison Harvey Branzburg, she practices primarily in the area of family law, and continues to represent clients in business, real estate and other litigation.

Rubin began her career in commercial litigation and, in 2005, her entrepreneurial spirit led her to serve as General Counsel for Sprinturf, an artificial turf company. When Sprinturf sold, she returned to Klehr and joined the real estate and finance group. In 2007, when the real estate market began to take a downturn at the same time that Rubin amicably divorced her spouse, Klehr’s Managing Partner and mentor, Bill Harvey, suggested that she help build a family law practice at the firm.

Rubin dove right in, taking on complex high-profile family law matters for real estate developers, corporate executives, lawyers, doctors, business owners and, in some cases, the spouses of such high profile individuals. In the courtroom, Rubin is touted as being an aggressive and effective trial attorney. However, she is practical and uses her keen business acumen to engage in early negotiation and settlement discussions whenever possible. In 2016, she became a partner in a company that successfully obtained a medical marijuana dispensary license in Pennsylvania and was instrumental in the process.

An active leader in the Montgomery County and Philadelphia Bar Associations, Rubin has published various articles regarding family law matters and as a panelist in continuing education programs. Most recently, Rubin presented on the intersection of medical marijuana and family law to 300 members of the City of Philadelphia Law Department.

“Family law is incredibly challenging,” says Rubin. “Many clients come to me when they are in crisis and personal distress, and as an advocate and counselor for my clients, it is tremendously satisfying to help them transition their lives to better a place.”
